Fun, Planning of All Nations Xmas Family Festival Open to All

Every individual in Torrance who wants to have a chance not only to share in the fun but to help plan the program for one of the biggest Yule activities in the community, the All Nations' Christmas Family Festival, to be sponsored by the local YWCA at its Carson St. headquarters on Dec. 11.

Mrs. F. P. Foley, chairman, this week extended an invitation to all interested persons to come to the festival, donate refreshments which will highlight the refreshment menu, to place an exhibit of their native land, or a country they have visited on tour, or to give their ideas for an interesting program carrying out the international theme.

"All you have to do," she said, "is to call the YWCA at FAirfax 8-8914, or me at FAirfax 8-4673, and tell us how you want to participate."

Already co-operating in the city-wide celebration are several organizations, including Torrance Garden Club and the International Women's Club. The gardeners, headed by Mrs. Victor Benstead, will arrange all the floral decorations, while the foreign-born women, headed by Mrs. Thomas Chiknbeard, will contribute pastries and programs.

Mrs. Milo Goettsch, who with Mrs. Jack Morrison took the Beta Sigma pledge ritual at the 2087 W. 220th St. home of Mrs. Robert Stewart, will open her 2112 S. Brighton Ave. home for the next club session, to be held Wednesday, Dec. 2, at 8 p.m.

Plans for a Dec. 19 bake sale and a Christmas party will complete the agenda. Two guests, Mesdames Theresa Bolton, 1905-A 22nd St., and Lee Campbell, 3337 W. 175th St., joined the membership for the pledge ritual. Members attending were Mesdames Robert Bowers, Evelyn Cullins, Janet Fergio, Harold Roberts, Stewart, and Gene Stirling.

Mrs. Goettsch Will Hostess Sorority Meet

Assisting the chairman are Mesdames R. R. Williams, Minnie Bolmon, Walter Stevens, Paul Shinoda, Hermenia Acala, and Carl Mohler. "Among program highlights we have planned," Mrs. Foley said, "is a talk by Mrs. Gilbert Myers on the YWCA in Cairo, Beirut, Bombay and other Indian and Egyptian cities. We also have issued special invitations to local foreign-born students who are now attending El Camino and Long Beach colleges so that you may meet them and gain a little better understanding of other lands.

"We are asking you to give us other ideas, because, after all, the program is for you."

PLAN XMAS FETE

Plans for the annual Christmas party, to be held Dec. 5 at the Masonic Temple with husbands and guests, highlighted the business agenda last week when the DeMolay Mothers Circle met at the Harbor City home of Mrs. Laura Jones.

For Remembrance Crown of Jewels Evokes Installation Memories as OES Holds Farewell Night

A crown of lighted jewels reminiscent of the installation of Joan Simpson and Thomas Foster as worthy matron and worthy patron a year ago shone in the East last Thursday night when Torrance Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, observed Farewell Night at the Masonic Temple on Sartori Ave.

Escorted to the East for the last time by Phyllis Peverley, conductress, the worthy matron gave her farewell speech in the form of a "last will and testament," leaving her station to the worthy matron-elect and giving a memento to each of the '53 officers and committee members. The talk followed escort and presentation of Edna Babcock, deputy grand matron for 1953, and many worthy matrons and worthy patrons, including Lela Klina and Arthur Lilien-graven of Playa Linda; Aetis Russell and Harold Savage of San Pedro Harbor; Henrietta Russell of Point Fermin; Mary Nelson of Wilmington; and Margaret Bettinson of Gardena.

Foster presided during Good of the Order, telling of his enjoyment in serving with Mrs. Simpson and their officers during the past year. Each new member initiated during his term in office was escorted to the iron and worthy patron marked each place setting.

In charge of the refreshment hour were Ruth Hardin, Garnett Satterfield, Gladys Mother-sell, Marguerite Morgan, Len Wolk, Fern Mead, Mattie Meyer, Jennie Deisigne, Ethyl Peverley, Frances Peverley, Lois Slicks, Joyce Miller, and Joe Hardin.

Farewell Night Plans, New Leaders Revealed by Jobies

Miss Carol Campbell, retiring honored queen of Job's Daughters, and her corps of officers will be feted at Farewell Night ceremonies next Tuesday night, Dec. 1, Susan Babcock, retiring publicity chairman and newly appointed chaplain, revealed this week.

Miss Babcock was appointed as chaplain at last Tuesday night's meeting by Miss Jane Moffatt, honored queen-elect. Other appointive positions were filled as follows:

Linda Thydie, recorder; Georgia Rhodes, musician; Judy Cook, treasurer; Karen Rice, librarian; Sonya Moneyham, senior custodian; Marian Smith, junior custodian; Deanna Ball, inner guard; Joan Blackman, outer guard; Jean DuRant, first messenger; Beverly Sowle, second messenger; Joan Thomas, third messenger; Peggy Sprout, fourth messenger; Janalee Bristo, fifth messenger; Kay Smith, electrician; Barbara Sandusky, page; Linda Lane and Lenora Sexton, obligations chairman; and Elizabeth Hedgecock, choir director.

Installation of these leaders will follow rites seating the line officers on Dec. 12 at the Masonic Temple. Headed by Queen Janie, the line officers are Janice Crabtree, senior princess; Carol Maloy, junior princess; Sally Speck, guide; and Diane Allen, marshal.
